

Why are these kits important ?

In the event of a traumatic injury, these kits give a person most of the tools they need to control the bleeding until help arrives. This can be the difference between life and death, or the loss of a limb.

A person who is bleeding severely can die from blood loss in just minutes.

A Bleed Control Be Ready! kit is an important item to train and equip private citizens to use these medically proven bleeding control practices to help save the lives of people who have suffered a traumatic injury.

A Bleed control Be Ready! kit is specifically designed to stop heavy bleeding and handle life-threatening injuries caused by gunshot, stabbing, crushing and other traumatic injuries.
